PARKINSON'S RESEARCH

Dr. Giselle Petzinger, MD

Dr. Petzinger's research includes Parkinson's disease, movement disorders and neurology. She has numerous publications on movement disorders and works closely with Dr. Michael Jakowec on clinical research in the battle to find cures for these debilitating diseases.

Dr. Michael Jakowec

The primary focus of research in Dr. Jakowec's laboratory is to better understand the molecular mechanisms involved in neuroplasticity in the injured brain with the emphasis on identifying new treatments for the cure of Parkinson's Disease.

2008 Honoree - John Latino

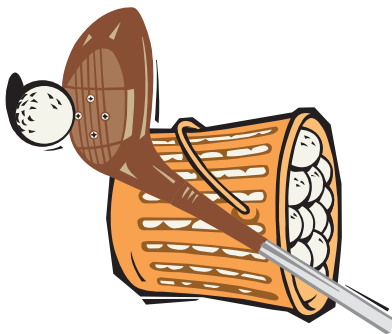

John is a former US Marine who served in Vietnam, receiving two Purple Hearts during his service. John led a very active lifestyle with his wife and two daughters. They enjoyed camping, waterskiing and fishing.

In 1998, at the age of 51, John developed a slight leg tremor. In 1999, the tremor was confirmed as Parkinson's Disease. The disease methodically reduced this outdoor sportsman to a man with constant pain and tremors.

In 2007, John had surgery at Kaiser Permanente to help give him back some of the quality of life he was missing.

John still has Parkinsons and without a cure nothing can stop the progression of the disease. We need your help, John needs your help, to find a cure.

Please support Par for Parkinsons and donate to help all who suffer from this life altering disease.

JOIN US FOR A GREAT DAY OF GOLF, PRIZES, AND CHARITY!

Join us for our inaugural event to raise money to benefit the Parkinsons Research at the Keck School of Medicine of USC. Our goal is to donate $40.00 for every par (or better) made on the day of the event! We want a full course of 144 golfers... or a potential of 648 holes ($25,920)! You can help us reach our goal by playing and/or sponsoring the tournament, or by attending the banquet and auction after the tournament.
